

ATTENTION JUNIORS

Emerging Public Leaders, a leadership program for students sponsored by the Richard W. Riley Institute of Government, Politics, and Public Leadership on the campus of Furman University is offering a week long summer program with a series of experiences that enable students to become public leaders in both domestic and international arenas. The program is FREE of charge to all students who are selected to participate. Complete an application on-line at www.rileyinstitute.org or contact the Institute at 864-294-3236 to request an application packet. Applications are due by Friday, April 3, 2009.