

How Do You Like to Learn?

At the beginning of the year our class spent time writing a mission statement. We thought about why we come to school and how school will help us become successful in the future. In order to reach our goal and learn the most that we can, each child completed a survey of twelve questions. We then took each question and made a graph so that we could clearly see how we enjoy learning the most! We learned that most of us like to work at a table or desk. Also, most of us enjoy working in pairs and learning through movement. Now that you have learned about us take some time to ask yourself, "How do you like to learn?"
