Dear Greenville High Parents, Alumni and Friends,

The Greenville High PTSA invites you to support The Raider Fund. The Raider Fund is designed to provide financial support for the academic programs at Greenville High School. Thanks to the generosity of last year's donors, we were able to provide students with the investment of additional security cameras, components needed for the GTV program, much needed items for classes including graphing calculators, a set of Chromebooks, science lab equipment and a 3D Printer, and much more--all based on proposals submitted by Greenville High faculty.

Known for its tradition in excellence, students from Greenville High School compete locally and nationally for positioning for college admission and within the job market. With the advancements in technology, our students are increasingly competing globally as well. Principal Jason Warren has partnered with parents, students, business leaders, faculty and staff to strategically advance Greenville High and your contribution is critical to ensure all Greenville High students have the foundation needed to ensure success in their future endeavors.

Funds will be distributed to directly support the efforts of teachers in the classroom through a grant application process, focusing on items that offer the greatest impact on all Greenville High students. Please be reminded that all donations are tax-deductible.

Thank you for your consideration of support for The Raider Fund and for your investment in the academic success of our Greenville High students and those to follow. If you have questions regarding The Raider Fund, please don't hesitate to contact Heidi Wright at 864.787.8039.

Go Raiders!
